G Suite

Gmail from Your Organization's Address

Breshna Link offers powerful email options, including a suite of webmail platforms, provided at affordable rates. Still, many users prefer the familiarity and powerful features that Gmail offers. While many small businesses have, in the past, resorted to using personal email addresses on Gmail, this can look a bit unprofessional. One of the biggest benefits of a G Suite account is the ability to send email from your own domain, but using Google's Gmail platform. In other words, your email address can be Username@YourDomain.com instead of @gmail.com. Plus, with its seamless integration into the rest of G Suite, saving and attaching files with Google Drive, chatting via Hangouts, and accepting calendar invitations via Google Calendar are a breeze.
